

Integrated Quality Management System Policy

SINCO aims to be an integrated company contributing to the prosperity of societies by providing high-quality low-density ammonium nitrate products in the Middle East and Africa region, focusing on safety and timely delivery to customers.

The integration of producing quality Industrial Grade Ammonium Nitrate products, maintaining the health and safety of our workforce and preserving the environment are not just priorities, but core values. While supporting these values and incorporating the fundamental components of SINCO Management System, SINCO is committed to:

- Being ranked first among the most effective companies in the field of the company's activity in terms of customer satisfaction, employee health, and safety, environmental protection and compliance with applicable law.
- The company seeks to protect the environment and prevent pollution through the optimum utilization of natural resources to maintain our resources well and reduce fuel/energy consumption and minimize losses to the maximum extent possible.
- Providing a safe workplace and comply with the applicable laws and maintains a high level of safety policies that aims to ensure the prevention of accidents and occupational injuries.
- Consultation and participation of workers.
- Continual improvement of management systems at the level of the integrated management system to ensure that the requirements of these systems and their objectives are always achieved.

This policy provides a framework for developing and reviewing goals and targets in each area of quality, environment, health and safety.
